Specialization: Security Studies

Institution	Faculty of International and Political Studies
Name of the programme	International and Political Studies (stosunki międzynarodowe)
Degree to obtain	Bachelor
Duration	6 semesters
Language of instruction	English
ECTS points	183 ECTS
Specialization description	Specialty Security Studies encompasses subjects within national and international security. Subjects in offer are dedicated to the phenomenon of security in terms of administration functioning on the local and central level. Additional focus is put on the most significant security and special forces' tasks. There is also place for subjects dedicated to current international situation and contemporary security threats. All the selected topics concerning security aspects are placed within three dimensions: global, national and regional. What is more, students become acquainted with different aspects of security: political, economic, military or cultural. Such multidimensional explanation of security enables all students to gain the broadest knowledge possible concerning the field of studies. The graduates acquire knowledge concerning national security, international security system and rules of functioning of all national and international security subjects. Inclusion of elements of social science in the educational process, especially in the field of defensive capability and political science together with humanities and jurisprudence, allows graduates to acquire broad knowledge that will allow them to identify, describe and to prevent both military and marital threats. What is more, graduates will be familiar with the procedures of crisis management. Completing the educational process provides necessary competences, abilities and skills required from the central and local administration's employees, especially within crisis response and management units. It also gives opportunity to work in international and non-governmental organizations, diplomatic and consular posts, corporations on positions of risk assessment and in the institutions within state's protective and defensive structures.
